PRINCIPAL

Marginalization is a serious issue of contemporary India which requires concentrated efforts for its elimination. In a socialistic democratic country like ours, marginality negates our fundamental constitutional principles of justice, equality & fraternity. There are several social groups in our country which are marginalized on the basis of economic status, geographical locations, literacy levels, gender, religion, language etc.

Such marginalized people are not only denied equal opportunities for their development but even deprived of the basic amenities for their survival. This prevents them from getting integrated into the mainstream of life and results in their underdevelopment and gradual isolation. The number of children belonging to such groups is very high. As prospective teachers, we need to open our arms and hearts to them and include them not only in educational institutions but in all the spheres of our lives. We must commit ourselves to create an enabling environment for such children to enjoy a healthy, happy, productive and creative life. Government of India has done its own duty by introducing RTE. Now, we must address the issue of marginalization at all levels. K. J. Somaiya Comprehensive College of Education, Training & Research dedicates its annual festival 'Pratyush' of 2019 to the marginalized children entitling this year's Pratyush as 'Hum Panchhi Ek Daal ke'. All the cultural events of Pratyush will focus on the sentiments, aspirations, ideas & problems of the marginalized children and the ways to overcome these problems.

'My India My Pride'

The history of India gives a glimpse into the magnanimity of its evolution - from a Country reeling under colonialism, to one of the leading economies in the global scenario within a span of few years. More than anything, the nationalistic fervour of the people is the contributing force behind the culmination of such a development. This transformation of the nation instils a sense of national pride in the heart of every Indian. So as a modest attempt at keeping the flame of national pride alive, the Alumni Association of TSCER organizes the Intercollegiate Competition on the Theme: 'My India My Pride'.

The details regarding the rules are attached along with the registration form.

Anticipating positive and enthusiastic response from your institution.
